

About Us

It is rare that you see homegrown original pop nowadays, especially guitar based that doesn't cover you in a layer of cheese and glitz and glamour. Rising above these flailing acts come Jakil, a London based Edinburgh born band, whose melodic and harmonious riffs capture the senses and pluck the heart strings effectively.

Leading with a soulful voice that couldn't be more relevant to the current musical climate in the UK, a strong social media presence is already in place for the guys and their stunningly shot accompanying video for 'Look Like Gold' is racking up the views by the thousands. With the support of Radio 1 secured and a debut album on the cards for 2014, keep an ear to the ground for Jakil as they take the Pop/Soul genre by storm.
