Lawrence Hill is an exciting and talented singer song writer from Hertfordshire.

He started playing guitar at the age of 6 and it has been his love and passion to write and make music ever since.

His down to earth voice and unique voice allows the audience to really connect with him and Lawrence himself sees that as a real priority when performing. 'My song writing is a solitary affair, being quite shy, I find it easier to allow my creativity to flow when I'm on my own. Having said that I feel there is no better feeling in the world than being able to share my music with anyone willing to listen.'

'My songs are really about my life experiences and things that have affected me. I quite often start a song with a strum of the guitar and later follow with random words that pop into my head. Combing these together until I find a sound that fits my mood'

Lawrence's influences come from musicians new and old. From Bob Dylan, The Beatles, Oasis and Eric Clapton to Jamie T and more recently Ed Sheeran. Lawrence's own style has elements from these amazing artists however he ensures he puts his own stamp on everything he comes up with.
